

Rennes School of Business Santiago Garcia Rodriguez appointed Dean of Global Business

Rennes School of Business, the most international Business School in France, welcomes Dr. Santiago Garcia Rodriguez as Dean of Global Business, as of Monday, April 16th, 2018.

Santiago Garcia Rodriguez has more than 15 years of experience in the international development of higher education worldwide. He was previously Dean and Director of Grenoble Graduate School of Business (GGSB), where he successfully implemented the internationalization strategy.

Santiago Garcia Rodriguez' qualities and deep expertise in the international field make him the ideal person to expand the development of Rennes School of Business. Within the scope of his position falls the portfolio of international programs, from the development of the strategy to the enhancement of their quality and worldwide reputation

"With Santiago, Rennes SB will amplify the recruitment worldwide and its global impact. Thanks to his experience, Santiago Garcia Rodriguez, a citizen of the world, will fulfil our ambitions and explore the huge development potential of Rennes SB ", explains Thomas Froehlicher, General Manager and Dean of Rennes SB since last January.

"I look forward to starting working with Thomas Froehlicher and the team of Rennes SB whose DNA is deeply international. The challenge is up to the School's ambitions: to go even further in the international integration and impose its brand in the Business Education worldwide" says Santiago Garcia Rodriguez.

Rennes School of Business key figures:

- 4513 students among which 53% are foreign students coming from 70 countries
- The singularity of a multi-cultural campus : 91% of international professors
- A complete portfolio of programs in Management (bachelor, masters, PhD et Executive Education)
- Triple accredited EQUIS, AACSB, AMBA
- Among the best programmes in Management worldwide in the Financial Times rankings, Finance et Executive MBA